08:30 - 09:00 Registration

09:10 - 09:15 Welcome Remarks

09:15 - 09:45 Keynote Speaker: David Rivkin (President, International Bar Association)

09:45 - 10:45 Ready for the Imitation Game? - Cybersecurity in International Arbitration

The recent cyber threats faced by the parties, tribunal and arbitral institutions have put the arbitration community on red alert. The increasing threats of hacking and tapping have presented new challenges to international arbitration. This session features dispute resolution experts and cybersecurity specialists who will explore forward-thinking strategies and steps to be taken by counsel, arbitrators and arbitral institutions to address cybersecurity breaches affecting privilege and confidential information in international arbitration.

10:45 - 11:10 Refreshment Break

11:10 - 12:10 Impact of Sanctions on Cross Border Transactions

This session will examine international sanctions and review current trends and their implications for international business relationships. What are the concerns? Are they justified? Join our panel of experts as they discuss the effectiveness of sanctions and examine the economic and political considerations and the consequences of sanctions and its effect on Asia.

12:10 - 13:10 Luncheon

13:10 - 14:30 The Use of Third-Party Funding in Arbitration: Is this a Developing Trend in Asia?

Third party funding has risen to prominence in recent years as a potential method of funding major commercial litigation and arbitration. Join our panel of experts as they examine the opportunities and misconceptions around the funding process as Hong Kong looks to harmonize third-party funding regulation and establishes the legal framework necessary to permit third party funding in arbitration.

14:30 - 15:00 Refreshment Break

15:00 - 15:40 International Arbitration in Asia: the new black?

White & Case has chosen to present the results of the survey, carried out in partnership with the Queen Mary University of London's School of International Arbitration, on "Improvements and Innovations in International Arbitration" at Hong Kong Arbitration Week. Our panelists will explore what the survey findings mean for the Asian region in general and whether Asia is becoming the new global hub for international arbitration. In particular the speakers will address Asia's ability to innovate and adapt at a fast pace to changes in the global legal landscape and user demands.
